Welcome and Overview: 2015-16 Catalog

The New Geneva Christian Leadership Academy was established in 2009 as a Reformed Christian Leadership Academy with instruction at the undergraduate and graduate college level. The overall title we use for all our degree programs best sums up our educational paradigm: 'Applied Theology'. The New Geneva Theological Seminary, College and Graduate School is a Religious Institution exempt from state regulation and oversight in the Commonwealth of Virginia and is under the care and oversight of the Institute for Theonomic Reformation and the Reformed Bible Church Session in Virginia @ Appomattox.

Theology is, and always will be, the "queen of the sciences." By this we do not simply mean that theology is the root of all learning, since every aspect of learning is fundamentally based upon a theological presupposition, but that without a solid foundation in theology it is futile and dangerous to study anything else. The knowledge of Scripture and of the God of Scripture is the foundational integrating principle, epistemological guide, and motivational center of all legitimate human thought and activity.

Each of our degree programs is geared toward and tailored to the individual student while emphasizing "Applicable Biblical knowledge": exegetical, theological, and especially practical; thus the focus is upon Leadership application of the Law-Word of God in every area of life.

Students specialize in fields of their choosing, but these fields will derive their significance and standard from God's Holy, infallible and inerrant Word.

Because there is a battle raging between Christo-centric and Humanistic thought, it is critical for the Christian student to be well-grounded in the principles and methods for defending and applying Christian principles of faith and law. It is our conviction that the divinely revealed Word of God is the only basis for a World-view that sows the seeds of intellectual, ethical, and scientific life and liberty, while all others sow misery, bondage and death. As such, New Geneva students will seriously interact with competing systems of "knowledge falsely so-called."

Since each generation of Christians is called upon to defend the Christian Faith it is our vision to equip our students to defend the truth of God's Holy Word revealed by the living Word, Jesus Christ, intellectually and practically.

All education must be integrated into life. This is the problem with modern education, even some of those within the realm of historical Christianity. While there may be a high level of academic knowledge dispensed to the student at these colleges, there is a disconnect between that knowledge and the actual application of that knowledge to the real world. This is the primary reason why most college education today has devolved into a middleclass job placement service. The result; the foundations of 'Applied Christian Scholarship' have been destroyed. All that remains is specialization in one particular field, without any connection to a legitimate belief system, with no purpose higher than making money.

At New Geneva, we hold fast to the belief that everything the student learns should make him or her a more thoughtful, holier, more diligent, and more faithful servant of Jesus Christ, unleashing his particular gifts by the holy fire of God's light and life-giving word to advance the Kingdom of God on earth.

If this is the sort of education you desire we invite you to consider our College Leadership programs. We aim at nothing less than the reformation of every area of life through the application of God's word to every area of life, for the advancement of His Kingdom – and for the Crown Rights of His Majesty. Time, history, and more importantly, the living God, is on our side. No other educational paradigm has a future.

Doctrinal Statement

New Geneva adheres to the unrevised original Westminster Confession of Faith (1643-7), with its Larger and Shorter Catechisms as well as the Savoy Confession, the Belgic, Heidelberg Confessions and Canons of Dort. New Geneva is unashamedly committed to the historic doctrines of the Reformed faith, maintaining and defending the antithesis between truth and error, light and darkness, belief and unbelief, always laboring to bring every thought captive to the Lordship of Jesus Christ.

We believe that this Confession represents a clear and concise statement of biblical, apostolic Christianity. Following Scripture and our Confession, we affirm that the sixty-six books of the canonical Scriptures are the inspired, infallible, and inerrant Word of God, all-sufficient for the man of God, to equip him for every good work<sup>1</sup> From this objectively true, epistemologically necessary, and subjectively satisfying starting point,

We affirm that God is eternally triune, the Creator of the world in six, twenty-four days, the summum bonum of man, and sovereign, providential Lord of the universe. We affirm that Adam was the first man, created immediately and personally by God, fell into sin, and thus lost his desire and ability to please God.

We affirm the eternal deity of Jesus Christ, the historical incarnation of the Son of God for our salvation, his vicarious, propitiatory, and efficacious atonement, and the necessity of personal faith and repentance for salvation.

We affirm the historicity of the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, his ascension to the right hand of the Father in power and glory, and his Mediatorial rule over all men and nations. We affirm the necessity of the work of the Holy Spirit to apply efficaciously to God's elect the saving benefits obtained by the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

We affirm that the visible catholic church<sup>2</sup> is the institution over which he rules specifically and savingly as Head and King, through which he has determined to make the nations his disciples, and outside of which there is ordinarily no possibility of salvation.

We believe that the purpose and goal of history is to reveal both the glorious justice and unfathomable mercy of God in the salvation of sinners, and that the discipleship work of the Church will result in the conversion of every nation to Jesus Christ, until all his enemies are made a footstool for his feet. These core truths of revealed, biblical religion are the foundation and guiding standard of New Geneva, in all its academic programs and administrative decisions.

We believe that a vigorous, confident, courageous, and exegetical defense, proclamation and application of these truths retain their apostolic, God-ordained power to confront the errors of our day, shut the mouths of God's enemies, overthrow every thought raised in opposition to Jesus Christ, and convert the world to the true religion.<sup>3</sup> It is of special concern to us to recover and apply cardinal applications of biblical truth to the needs of the day: the relevant application of God's law to the totality of man's life, the defense of the faith through methods that are consistent with biblical epistemology, and eschatology that reflects the present reign, Majesty and glory of Jesus Christ.

Philosophy of Education

The educational philosophy of New Geneva is self-consciously rooted in its doctrinal convictions. The Scriptures provide the framework through which a worldview — a comprehensive philosophy of life — is developed, and through which all thoughts, intentions, and actions, are judged for truth or error from an explicitly Biblical presupposition. The Scriptures are the foundation of all knowledge and wisdom.

At New Geneva emphasis is placed upon understanding the ideologies and movements that have fundamentally shaped Western civilization. While it is true that Christianity has influenced much of Western culture, much is still left wanting. These many cultural influences will be carefully studied and, in the case of non-Christian thought, critically evaluated.

In order to effectively accomplish this, the student must develop skills in critical thinking and analysis as well as a thorough understanding of Biblical and reformed doctrine. Knowledge for the sake of knowledge is useless, and even harmful. There must be an application of that knowledge for it to be influential upon a culture. Therefore, knowledge drawn from the reservoir of Scripture must be used to advance the Kingdom of God in this world.

New Geneva is a leadership academy, which emphasizes that it is the responsibility of each person to obediently use the God-given tools they have acquired to exercise godly dominion in every profession, occupation, or endeavor they pursue. Thus, the key to the Christian life is not knowledge per se, but ethical action (based on the standard of the Bible) for which all knowledge must be used. Every element and subject of humanity must be studied from a Christo-centric position.

Since God has made each of us unique, with a unique mind and aptitude, Geneva tailors each course tract to the student, being sensitive to where God is leading that student. Unlike other colleges where the student must conform to the structure and courses which the school dictates, much of which is unnecessary, and sometimes counterproductive, Geneva tailors its instruction to the student's needs and directs that student to where God wants them so that he or she can achieve their desired, God glorifying goals.

What Is Applied Theology?

Since every facet of life is tempered by one's basic religious outlook, in that there is no area of life that can remain neutral, New Geneva seeks to apply the Christo-centric Christian religion to every area of the culture with the express purpose of bringing it into conformity to the Righteous Law-Word of Christ. This includes the areas of politics, art, literature, music, theatre, science, psychology, philosophy, history, ecology, economics, religion, and law. In order to spread the principles of Biblical righteousness and further the cultural manifestation of Christ's Kingdom, the Christian must address all issues of life from a Biblical perspective. The Applied Theology programs for both the undergraduate and graduate levels endeavor to help students accomplish this important task. Our program in Applied Theology and Applied Christian Studies assists students to identify the underlying theological basis for a Christian culture and shows how the Law and the Gospel must penetrate every aspect of human experience. By applying the historic doctrines of the Reformed faith, the Biblical principles of law, ethics and equity, New Geneva helps students understand man's relation to God and the world and how the Kingdom of Christ is advanced by an obedience to, and application of, the revealed Word.

Perhaps most importantly, the Applied Theology program seeks to instill an acute awareness of the antithesis between Christian and non-Christian thought and practice. Rather than approaching education with the aim of cooperating with non-Christian ideologies, Christian education should press the antithesis between the God-fearing and God-hating philosophies of life. To seek reconciliation of biblical Christianity with worldly thought is to compromise Christianity and abandon everything that is distinctive about the Christian Faith. Much of today's education and learning, (this often includes "so-called Christian education"), utterly lacks the goal of reconstructing the culture according to Scripture. Hence, much of our postmodern education presumes that the education itself will "save" the society, thus becoming Messianic in its goal and under girding. But it is the supernatural working of Christ's redeeming Spirit and the application of God's law-Word, by His Body, His elect, that will ultimately rebuild culture. The precepts and principles, which are applied, must be Christ-centered not man centered. Thus a degree entitled "Applied Theology" is most accurate.

Program Goals and Purpose

God calls His people to serve him with the diversity of gifts He bestows and in the various circumstances He providentially allots. Thus, every Christian (especially the young adult) needs competent, careful, and comprehensive instruction in the doctrines and practices of the Christian faith, as well as their application to the entire range of legitimate human activity. Learning should never be abstract, or purely theoretical. All learning should be with a view to application. With that as the principle focus, New Geneva is especially dedicated to equipping Christians with the worldview tools needed to disciple the nations to Jesus Christ through the knowledge of His Law-Word.

Each instructor at New Geneva is a qualified, competent instructor who has demonstrated knowledge and proficiency in his, or her, respective subject area(s). All instructors share a common theological perspective, and a passion for the application of God's true, righteous and enduring principles to the modern world. In this way students may be certain to receive a thorough grounding in God's Word and in the strategies and logistics of its application.

It is New Geneva's purpose to challenge each student to think God's thoughts after Him in principles and in logistics so that they may be able, not only to give an answer to everyone that asks them for a reason of their Christian hope, but that they may successfully confront and influence the world around them in the areas of Biblical Law, Constitutional law, Historical Theology, Christian Political Theory, Biblical Government, Systematics, Sacred Music and the God's perspective in the Visual arts, all from a Christo-centric presuppositional starting point. New Geneva's academic programs are designed to ground students in the foundational biblical truths in each subject area, give them sufficient exposure and answers to the challenges made against biblical truth, equip them with the tools and confidence to defend the Christian faith, and then lead them into the realm of applying these truths.

Successful education depends upon dedicated, diligent students and the active involvement of instructors. Each of our instructors is committed to assisting students in the timely and thorough completion of his/her college education, as well as in providing assistance for the practical use of education after the completion of the studies. It is in the application of academics and the logistical research of Biblical policies that New Geneva wishes to highlight through its internship, program "The Ambassadors' School".

The Ambassadors' School internship program is comprised of graduate students who desire a thorough knowledge of Christian Leadership-strategies and tactics via intense study and research along with the writing and publishing of position papers and logistical strategies in an effort to disseminate Biblical solutions to modern day problems.

Administration

An application form is available upon request or may be downloaded from our website: www.newgeneva.us A non-refundable $35.00 application fee is required.

Academic background. If the applying student attended a traditional primary school, please have that school send an official transcript directly to the New Geneva office (PO Box 778 Appomattox VA 24522). If the applicant was entirely home-schooled, please send copies of any documents (test results, certifications, etc.) indicating the student's achievements.

Potential students should also send information regarding employment experience.

(Note: New Geneva welcomes and encourages applicants who were home-schooled, even if they do not have much by the way of documentation. Please do not be dissuaded from applying if you cannot produce any official certifications or transcripts. True learning is not necessarily about documentation or test results.)

Please send at least one (1) letter of recommendation to the New Geneva Admissions Office. The letter should be from the applicant's pastor or from an officer in the church, (elder or deacon) or a person who can verify the extent of the applicant's educational experience (teacher, tutor, etc.). Ordinarily, these should not be relatives. The recommendations should clearly indicate the person's position and relationship to the applicant. These letters of recommendation should be sent directly to the New Geneva Admissions Office and not through the student unless otherwise stated.

A personal or telephone interview may be required in order to obtain clarifications or additional information.

Applicants, who submit all relevant materials, will normally be notified in writing or by telephone within thirty (30) business days as to acceptance or non-acceptance. Following notification of acceptance, the applicant will receive information relevant to registration, classes, and attendance.

Student Conduct

All students are expected to display Christian conduct consistent with mature, diligent, and sober-minded commitment to Scriptural Commandments. In their personal lives students should endeavor to study Scripture prayerfully and meditatively, not only as that "milk" that produces Christian growth but also that they might "test all things" and hold fast to what is good and right.

Students should give a portion of each day to seeking after the grace of God in Jesus Christ through prayer. Every student is expected to be a faithful and active member of a faithful local congregation.

Should any incident of questionable conduct arise, or should a student be charged with any notorious sin by their governing church body, New Geneva will give serious consideration to that student's ability to continue in its institution. A formal hearing with the student may be required by the New Geneva Advisory Board or Rev. Dr. Paul Michael Raymond, Dean.

Transferring Applicants

All transferring applicants must file an application in the same manner as a newly entering freshman. The applicant must submit a high school transcript (or equivalent); if he has earned any credit at a recognized higher educational institution, an official college/university transcript is required. This will assist in Geneva's course recommendation procedure. The transfer student must not have been expelled (or otherwise removed) from the previous institution for moral infraction recognized as such by the Bible and the historic Reformed Faith, unless this infraction has been repented of and/or successfully dealt with by the church or the educational institution. Evaluation of transfer of credit will be on a case-by-case basis.

Where possible, the applicant should send a course description from a catalog and a course syllabus (or equivalent) that describes the course, the instructor, textbooks, and/or readings. This information should also briefly outline the course (if possible).

Since New Geneva's curriculum is unique in its perspective, there is no guarantee that the institution can accept credit even where course titles are similar and descriptions are apparently equivalent. No course with a grade lower than a "C" will transfer.

Homeschool Applicants

New Geneva encourages enrollment of students who have been home-schooled. In fact New Geneva began with Home Educated students in mind and its paradigm is geared toward that community. While some religious colleges look skeptically at home-schooling, and many public institutions erect difficult procedural barriers to admission, New Geneva enthusiastically welcomes home Educated children from Christian families. In the application process, we simply ask that the prospective student send us any and all information that he believes is relevant to assessment, not only of academic skill, but also of potential contribution to the advancement of the Kingdom of God.

Accreditation

The New Geneva Christian Leadership Academy is not accredited by any regional, state or national secular accreditation agency, nor do we seek such accreditation. Since New Geneva is a Christian institution it rejects the secularism of conventional accreditation and the stifling of creativity by accreditation. New Geneva Theological Seminary, College and Graduate School is a Religious Institution exempt from state regulation and oversight in the Commonwealth of Virginia

However, New Geneva in no way rejects the idea that education must be of the highest caliber. Our firm commitment is to insure quality Christian higher education without a hint of secularism and without bowing to the accrediting oversight of educational agencies that do not have the same objectives that Geneva has. New Geneva, however, is certified by the Virginia State Council of Higher Education and thus able to confer college degrees to its graduates.

You can read our extensive accreditation statement on our web site at: www.newgeneva.us.

Grading System

Geneva bases its grading system on each student's ability to learn and solve issues related to specific course studies. The typical grading system, while helpful, may not reflect the real capacity of the student to think critically or to solve cultural difficulties Biblically. Students that do not show a willingness to excel in scholarship coupled with a deep devotion to Geneva's studies will be asked to withdraw from Geneva's program.

Geneva is a discipleship college, working with each student so as to produce excellence in learning and in the application of knowledge. It's goal is to impart good and Godly character and stimulate sound learning. All work must be A rated otherwise it will not be accepted. Geneva bases its learning system on the Hebraic Biblical model of Deut 6 where each student is dealt with individually, in face to face contact hours, being mentored throughout their college experience by their several professors.

Fee Schedule

Full-time students will be charged per class, per semester. Geneva considers a full-time schedule as consisting of Four 3 unit/credit hour classes, Three 4 unit/credit hour classes or any combination of both, totaling 15 credit hours or more. Full-time students may take more classes, if they choose

Part-time students will be charged per class per semester as well.

All administration and course fees are to be paid at the time of semester completion unless a payment plan option is agreed upon.

Financial hardship cases will be handled on a case-by-case basis and will be decided solely at the discretion of the New Geneva Board of Directors. Scholarships for large families are also considered.

In light of this philosophy, New Geneva offers certain in-house dual credit courses within the undergraduate level to be also taken as a graduate/seminary course. In this way the student can complete both an undergraduate tract and a MACS in less than 6 years; 5 if the student is well disciplined.

Special Thank to Professor Kevin Clauson, Dean and founder of Christ College, Lynchburg Virginia, who was kind enough to give his permission for Geneva to use his catalog structure and wording having the same passion and vision for the world – the comprehensive advancement of the Kingdom of God on Earth. Deo Vindice!
